WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT THE AFROFUTURISM FESTIVAL YEAR VI

What we now call the Afrofuturism Festival began as the Afrofuturist Occupation, featuring temporary activations in public spaces. Since 2021, it has transformed into a Festival that is today one of the largest segments focused on futurism and diversity.

HOW THE FESTIVAL WORKS

Casa Vale do Dendê, located at Rua Alaíde do Feijão, No. 2 - Terreiro de Jesus, will work as your compass. It's our meeting point and the starting point for the spaces where the Festival activities will take place, around Terreiro de Jesus - the iconic central square of the Historic Center of Salvador. In this space, we'll provide bilingual assistance to guide every participant and answer questions during the event

THE FORMAT

Our festival has an intimate format. Talks and panels will accommodate an average audience of 40 to 80 people, taking place simultaneously. It is common for lectures, talks, and panels to fill up quickly, as each topic is subject to the capacity of its respective spaces. Plan your participation in the event, with a plan A, a plan B, and even a plan C. We don't want anyone to miss out on other opportunities provided by the Festival. You can plan your schedule by tracking and participating in activities related to your interest (Literature, Arts, Performing Arts, and Body in Movement). Engage with your connections by sharing your festival experience on social media and remember to tag our profile @afrofuturismofestival. Please note that institutional channels have a limited capacity for reposts, so don't be disheartened if your content isn't featured. 😊

HOW TO GET THERE

If you choose a rideshare service (Uber, 99, taxi, Indrive), set the destination to Casa Vale do Dendê - Rua Alaíde do Feijão, N. 2. Use the landmark Restaurante Ó Paí Ó in Terreiro de Jesus as a reference.

For those arriving by car, parking is available at Delta Park, located at Av. José Joaquim Seabra, 193 - Pelourinho. The discount stamp will be available at the Festival accreditation and must be presented when leaving the parking lot.
